

Join us for the third Democratizing
Knowledge (DK) Conversation.

democratizing
knowledge PROJECT

developing literacies building communities seeding change

Jackie Orr, (Sociology/Maxwell School) and Paula Johnson, (Law School) will start the conversation.

Chandra Talpade Mohanty, (Women's and Gender Studies) will facilitate.

"Decolonizing Knowledge: Working from Within Our Particular Locations"

12:30 p.m.
Wednesday, November 11
304 Tolley
Syracuse University

These informal conversations are open to everyone.
Light refreshments will be served.

Democratizing Knowledge (DK) is one of the Chancellor's Leadership Projects, and through conversations, workshops, speakers, and projects, we will explore the politics of knowledge in three ways by taking up the challenge of talking across differences and developing new literacies, by building new communities and coalitions on campus and beyond, and by seeding institutional culture change.